The world's leading export mint

Supplying approximately 5 billion coins and blanks to over 40 countries each year, The Royal Mint is the world's leading export mint. We are the trusted partner of more governments and central banks than any other mint, delivering high-quality products that help our customers achieve more value from their currency.

Redefining currency

As cash cycles evolve, we're helping customers all over the world to redefine how coins and currency are designed and manufactured, ensuring each currency system meets the needs of its economy.

The world's authority on coins and currency

The Royal Mint is a 21st-century business backed by more than 1,100 years of experience and continuous improvement. We continue to define the minting industry, delivering the world's best currency to our partners around the globe.

Security and reliability

“The new £1 coin has been designed to be fit for the future, using security features that aim to safeguard our currency, and currencies around the world, for years to come. Staying ahead of sophisticated counterfeiters remains a constant challenge and this coin helps in that battle.”

Adam Lawrence
Chief Executive of The Royal Mint

As the creator of the most secure coin in the world – the new UK 12-sided £1 coin – we can offer our customers the highest levels of security expertise. From design and manufacture through to storage and distribution we’re always looking for ways to enhance currency security.

Durability like no other

Our longer-lasting mono-ply technology is the cost-effective alternative to more expensive currency options.

With a life expectancy 20 times longer than an equivalent value banknote, and up to five times longer than other plated coin products, our ultra-durable mono-ply plated steel coins and blanks represent a lifetime of savings for customers.

More than just a provider of coins

From manufacturing efficiencies to improving production forecasts, we're a partner who can support you over the long-term across all of your currency challenges.

Our experts provide strategic advice to countries around the globe on all aspects of the cash cycle and we have provided products and services to over half of the world's issuing authorities.

What our customers say about us...

“The Royal Mint is truly a world-class organisation that provides exceptional service from order to delivery. I have no reservations in recommending this company to any other mint or central bank around the world.”

Egyptian Mint Authority

“We find The Royal Mint to be flexible in its project approach and are pleased with the high level of technical and commercial support they provide.”

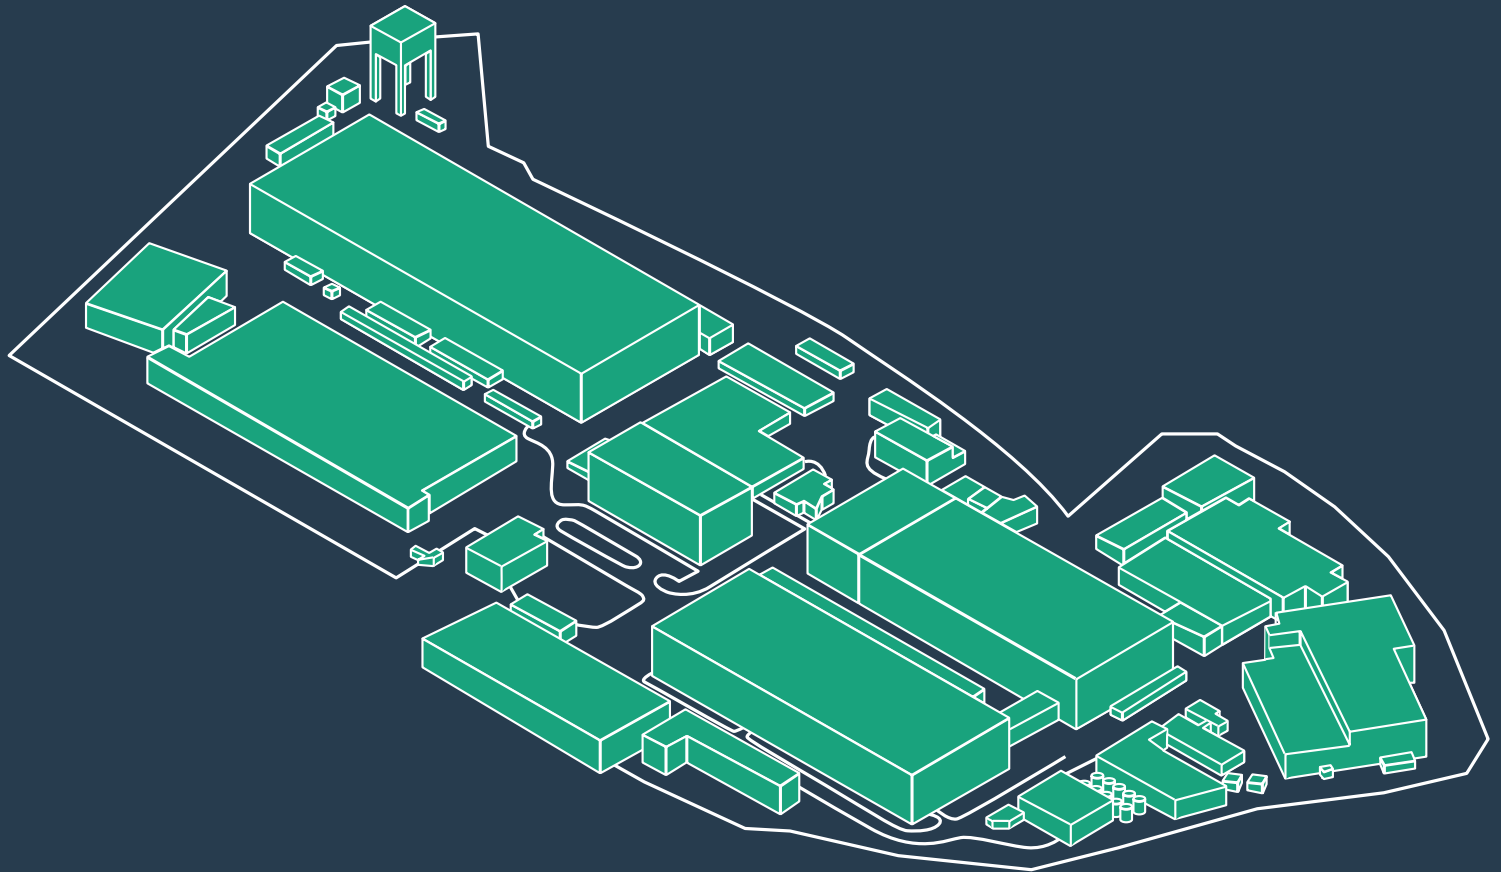

Royal Australian Mint

“I would like to express my sincere satisfaction and deepest thanks due to the remarkable and excellent cooperation of The Royal Mint. Members of your professional team have been ready to assist us during the year, suggesting quick and proper solutions, and fresh ideas, to make our work smoother and more productive.”

Croatian Monetary Institute

“The service received from The Royal Mint during the last 16 years has been excellent and the coins received have been of a very high quality. I have no hesitation in recommending The Royal Mint to any prospective customers.”

Central Bank of Iceland

The Royal Mint occupies a constantly guarded 35-acre site in Llantrisant, South Wales. Its large-scale production facilities, located on one site, include everything from the production of coinage blanks to the striking of the finished coins.
