1,100 Years of History

The Royal Mint is one of the oldest institutions in the United Kingdom with a history stretching back more than 1,100 years. Our story starts with a silver penny struck in the ninth century during the reign of Alfred the Great and we have struck the coins of every British monarch ever since. From 1279, in the reign of Edward I, a single mint was formed within the Tower of London. This royal fortress provided a secure location for striking the nation's coins for centuries.

A new mint was built on Little Tower Hill in the early nineteenth century, a short distance from the Tower. Although the site seemed large to observers at the time, it was rendered obsolete by a huge increase in the demand for coins. As the UK Government prepared to introduce a decimal currency in the 1960s, the decision was taken to move The Royal Mint out of London. The Royal Mint in Llantrisant, South Wales was opened by Her Majesty The Queen in December 1968. After decimalisation, all UK coin production shifted from London to Wales, with the last coin struck at Tower Hill in 1975.

The Home of Precious Metals

The Royal Mint has worked with precious metals for over a millennium and we are the original maker of trusted investment solutions in gold, silver and platinum. Whether you are looking to set up a precious-metals savings programme for a loved one, or wish to diversify your investment portfolio, where better to start than with The Royal Mint, the home of precious metals?

Trusted by thousands of investors all over the world, The Royal Mint offers gold, silver and platinum bullion approved by His Majesty The King. We also offer a range of savings programmes, from growing a golden nest egg for a child to preparing for a golden retirement.

Make Your Investment Precious

When it comes to investing, spreading risk helps to avoid overexposure to any one particular asset class. Many experts suggest putting a percentage of your portfolio into precious metals, with gold, silver and platinum typically being the most popular choices for investors. Due to their lack of correlation to other assets, adding precious metals to your portfolio can reduce volatility and balance risk. Once you know more about the value of purchasing gold, silver and platinum as an investment, the next step becomes narrowing your decision down to which metal is most suitable for you.

GOLD

Gold is so rare that the world pours more steel in an hour than it has poured gold in all of recorded history.

SILVER

Silver is considered a store of value, but it is also widely used in industry. You'll find it in many everyday items, including batteries and solar panel cells.

PLATINUM

One of the rarest precious metals on earth, platinum is also an industrial metal. The main driver for demand is its use in the manufacture of catalytic converters.

Get Into Gold

Few investments have the beauty and timeless appeal of gold. Its periodic symbol, Au, is taken from the name 'Aurora', the Roman goddess of the shining dawn. Since its discovery more than 5,000 years ago, civilisations have traded and treasured this most precious of metals. From the tombs of the pharaohs to the mythical city of El Dorado, gold has threaded its way through our collective history and culture.

Thanks to its dual nature as an investment and a consumer good, gold has the potential to perform during times of boom and bust. Gold is easy to buy and sell, has a track record for returns over the long term, and is valued by investors all over the world as a way of balancing risk against other investments such as stocks and shares. With a range of gold investment options now available from The Royal Mint, it has never been easier to get into gold.

Why Gold?

LONG-TERM PERFORMANCE

Gold has increased in value by an average of 10% per year over the last 40 years, making it an attractive long-term investment.

SPREAD YOUR RISK

As gold traditionally holds its value, it is often seen as a 'safe haven' asset. Usually performing well when riskier stocks fall, it helps to create a diverse and more stable investment portfolio.

AN INTERNATIONAL COMMODITY

Gold has a global spot price – an agreed current worldwide value – which means it is readily available and easy to buy and sell at any time.

INHERENTLY BEAUTIFUL

Gold has been treasured for its innate beauty for millennia, making it the perfect family heirloom investment to pass down to future generations.

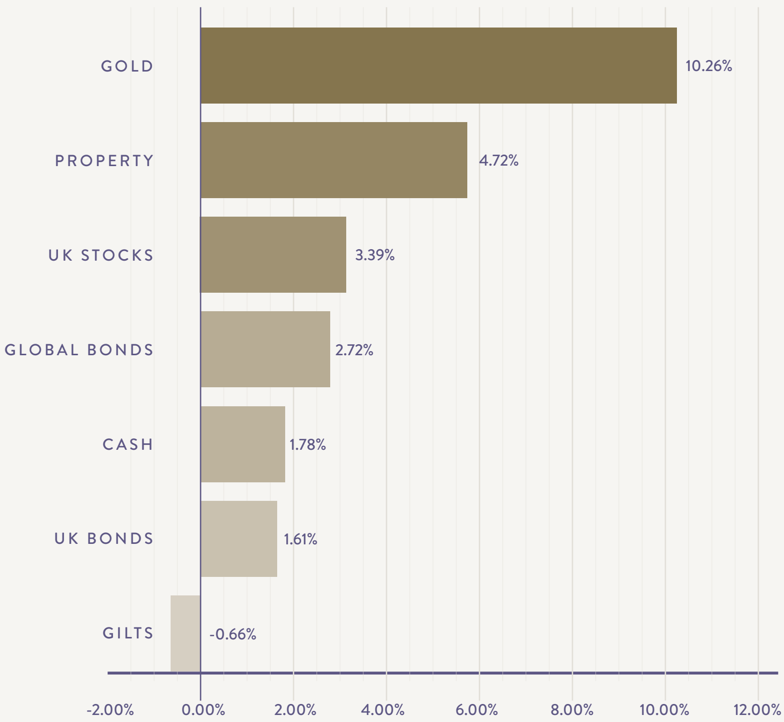
Gold Performance

As with any investment, the price of gold can fluctuate but, historically, gold has maintained its value over the long term.

The price of gold tends to rise in response to events that cause other investments, such as stocks and bonds, to fall. This means that adding gold to your investment portfolio can increase diversity, add welcome stability and improve its performance.

The chart on the right compares the annual percentage growth of gold over the past 20 years against cash, property, stocks, bonds and gilts.

FACTUAL COMPARISON



The Enduring Appeal of Silver

Silver's popularity is evident through its widespread use in the manufacture of jewellery and collectables, its long history as currency, and the broad range of industrial applications that underpin its demand. More affordable than gold, in terms of investments silver also performs differently and often attracts investors looking for short-term gains.

Adding Platinum to Your Portfolio

Platinum's popularity stems from the fact that it is one of the rarest precious metals in the world. The annual production of platinum is just 10% of that of gold and its complex refinement process compounds its natural scarcity. Thanks to its beautiful, silver-blue colour, platinum is highly sought after for prestige jewellery and has a wide variety of industrial uses, including components in electronics, chemical processing, and medical and dental applications.

THE SOVEREIGN

The Royal Mint struck the first gold Sovereign in 1489 for Henry VII when it was established as a symbol of royal prestige and power. Since then it has survived retirement, rebirth and reform to become the most trusted bullion coin in existence and the 'chief coin of the world'. Recognised by individuals all over the world, no other bullion coin has a secondary market as well established as the gold Sovereign, making it easy to trade and liquidate. The Sovereign bullion coin is available in a range of sizes, including The Half-Sovereign, The Sovereign and The Double-Sovereign. It is also available to buy in volume via tubes and boxes.

BRITANNIA

Since 1987, Philip Nathan's classical design has made Britannia the UK's most iconic bullion coin. Today, the popular design has been elegantly enhanced with four state-of-the-art security features, making Britannia the most visually secure bullion coin in the world. Britannia bullion coins are available in gold, silver and platinum and in a range of sizes, including a tenth-ounce, a quarter-ounce, a one ounce and a spectacular ten-ounce coin. They are also available to purchase in volume via tubes and boxes.

Unique Benefits

VAT

VAT EXEMPT

Silver and platinum coins are subject to VAT at the standard rate. However, gold enjoys the same exemption as other forms of investment like stocks and shares. This means that gold bullion transactions are VAT free.

CGT

CAPITAL GAINS TAX EXEMPT

The vast majority of assets, including paintings, antiques, most shares and any property aside from your main residence, are all liable for CGT. However, due to their legal tender status, all of our UK bullion coins are exempt from CGT for UK residents.

STORAGE OPTIONS

Bullion coins can be delivered to you for safekeeping or securely stored at The Royal Mint. Your coins will be held in our precious-metal storage facility, The Vault®, where they will be fully insured and reconciled daily.

Bullion Bars

The Royal Mint offers a variety of gold, silver and platinum bullion bars. The choice extends to the size of the bar, which ranges from 1g through to 400ozs.

Popular Investment Bars

MINTED BRITANNIA BARS

Featuring a design by renowned numismatic artist Jody Clark, Britannia's story is captured beautifully on a range of crafted bullion bars. Each bar is stamped with a unique serial number, guaranteeing both its quality and authenticity.

CAST BARS

Unlike minted bars, cast bars have less intricate designs and, due to the manufacturing process, there can be unevenness in the finish of the bar. This reduction in the manufacturing cost is then passed on to you, resulting in a lower premium. This finish is only aesthetic and does not affect the value.

Unique Benefits

VAT EXEMPT

Silver and platinum bars are subject to VAT at the standard rate. However, gold enjoys the same exemption as other forms of investment like stocks and shares. This means that gold bullion transactions are VAT free.

Bullion bars can be delivered to you for safekeeping or securely stored at The Royal Mint. Your bars will be held in our precious-metal storage facility, The Vault®, where they will be fully insured and reconciled daily.
