The Sir Isaac Newton Suite at The Royal Mint Experience is a conference and seminar venue, full-width glass walls and double doors make the room bright, airy and peaceful. It offers guests free WIFI and an integrated 4K 3D screen, ensuring presentations are connected and immersive. An adjoining outdoor piazza extends the venue outside, and a foldaway wall that links the Sir Isaac Newton Suite to the adjoining space can be opened up to facilitate grand-scale events.

The Pistrucci Room has hosted meetings between The Royal Mint and its international trading partners but now opens its doors to all VIP guests. Tucked away from the exhibition, this modern room offers a round-table environment and can accommodate twelve guests around a large boardroom table, with ample room for plush seating and a small break-out coffee area.

Guests can negotiate their business while surrounded by leaders and icons of the past, as original charcoal currency designs, featuring Winston Churchill and Britannia, hang on the walls. Presenters have full access to the LCD TV and free WIFI to aid their negotiations and pitch.

Our event at The Royal Mint was amazing. The tour offered a fascinating glimpse into the coin production process, enhanced by our knowledgeable guide's stories.

Dinner in the event space was exquisite, with each course beautifully presented. The 'strike your own' experience was definitely a highlight, allowing us to create a unique keepsake and engage with the Royal Mint's craftsmanship firsthand. This hands-on activity added a personal and memorable touch to our visit. Overall, The Royal Mint provided an unforgettable blend of education, history and engagement.

I highly recommend it for any special occasion and truly a unique experience.

Our experience at The Royal Mint
for the Consulegis dinner last October was truly memorable.

The unique historical setting impressed all our members, who enjoyed exploring one of the oldest companies in the UK. The evening began with an engaging behind-the-scenes tour of the coin-making process, which everyone found both informative and intriguing. A highlight of the tour was the opportunity for everyone to strike their own coin and take it home as a souvenir. Dinner was fantastic, with the staff ensuring everything ran smoothly, and after dinner, guests enjoyed music and dancing, adding to the evening's enjoyment. The combination of rich history, excellent service, and a distinctive atmosphere made the event very special. We highly recommend The Royal Mint Experience for anyone looking to host a memorable corporate event.
